CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—At seven o'clock last evening a strand came loose in the cable of the Walout Hills cable road and wrapped around the grip of a car coming west on Bixth street. The car was full of passengers, and on it went like wild, overtaking another car at Bixth and Main streets full of people. This car it pushed along. Brakes were applied and the wheels were looked dead on both cars. On they went, striking teams in the darkness, passengers screaming and hundreds of excited people following it into the middle of the street. In this way the runaway cars wheeled from Bixth into Walout street, and from Walout into Fifth street at Fountain square, and dashing onward they struck a horse car going west on Fifth near Bycamore street. The latter street is ditched deeply where Fifth street crosses it, and at this crossing the horse car, horses, passengers and all were piled in the ditch. At the same time the runaway cars were thrown from the track and atopped with a terrible wrench to the cable, so violent, indeed, that every car on the track clear up to Walout Hills was derailed. The shock of iderailing was greatest to four cars that were coming behind the runaway. These four cars were in pairs on Bixth street, between Broadway and Walout streets, and were full of people coming down town to church. Thirty or forty people were badly bruised and 300 or 400 were badly scared. Of the injured Lowis Kold is probably fatally hurt, and Mrs. Brockmann, of Covington, was seriously injured. There were in the stage Rev. J. C. Stanley and his daughter Maud, and Rev. J. H. Sherley and his daughter, The robber said: "I won't touch you, ladies," and when told that the two gentlemen were ministers, added: "Well, I can pas you, I reckon," and he passed them. Tom Latimer, of Brownwood, who also contributed, remarked to the highwayman: "Pretty easy for one man to do;" to which the robber answored: "Carrying pistols is agin the law, you know. The Legislature said that, and I see you fellers alu't got none."

The robber kept the entire party standing in the road now for fully two hours, when he said: "It's time for the Angelo stage, and you just walk on and I will follow you." The passengers walked on, the robber again mounted, and when the other stage came in sight he galloped by and ordered the driver of the stage to stop. The same programme was carried out, and it is said that $1,100 were obtained. He cut open the registered pouches and took the packages, putting them in saddle pockets. He ther rode back to the passengers of the first stage, and throwing the watches to one of the men, said: "You can have these tickers. Now all of you skip." The passengers hustled into the stage and the highwayman, putting spurs to his horse, turning in his saddle and firing two shots into the air, he was gone. He went in the direction of Point Rock. G. A. R. OFFICERS ELECTED.

G. A. R. OFFICERS ELECTED.

General Res, of Minnesota, Chosen Commander-in-Chief-Leaving for Home.

St. Louis, Oct. L.—Judge Rea, of Minnesota, was elected Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic on the first ballot by a majority of 24. The evacution of this city by the rank and file of the Grand Army began Thursday night, and yesterday the tented fields were deserted. At the Encampment the Committee on Resolutions reported back the resolution offered by Vandervoort in regard to the veto of the Dependent Pension bill and a pension to Mrs. Logan, recommending the adoption of that part that referred to Mrs. Logan's pension and the rejection of the balance on the ground that the matter had been fully covered by the action on the report of the Pension Committee. Under the operation of the previous question Vander voort's amendment was overwhelmingly deteated and the report of the committee was adopted by a vote of 315 to 573.

The election of officers was then declared in order, and the following were the nominations for the Commander-in-Chief for the ensuing year: General Siccum, of New, York, General T. Rea, ex-Governor George T. Anthony, of Kansax, and General E. P. Grier, of St. Louis. Slocum received 153: Anthony, 66; Grier, 18; Rea, 294; Sherman, 1 and Warner, of Kansax City, 1. Rea was declared cleeted. He was escorted to the platform by defeated candidates Anthony and Grier, and returned thanks to the encampment.

The rules were suspended and Nelson and Grier, and returned thanks to the en-campment.

The rules were suspended and Nelson Cole, of Missouri, was elected senior vice commander; John C. Limahan, of New Hampshire, junior vice commander; Gen-oral Lawrence Donohue, Sergeant Gen-oral; Rev. Edward Anderson, Chaphin-in-Chief.

The Yankee Sloop Volunteer Wins the Second Race and the Prize Cup.

New York, Oct. 1.—The wind at the start in the second race between the Volunteer and Thistle was blowing about twenty miles an bour. It maintained that velocity all the way out, except during a period of per-haps twenty minutes, when it let down considerably, during which time the Thistle considerably, during which time the linking people claim that they were becalined, while the Volunteer held the wind. Really the contestants were equally afflicted, The yachts rounded the outer mark like this: Volunteer, 2 hours, 25 minutes, 40 seconds; Thistle, 2 hours, 41 minutes.

The boats set spinnakers coming home, and the question as to whether the cutter could go fast enough before the wind to make up the sloop's gain in windward work was to be decided. The Volunteer had a lead of fully two and a half miles when the Thistle rounded and that was not diminished very much on the run. The Thistle was first to take in her spinnaker, Thistle, 2 hours, 41 minutes. but the Volunteer followed suit immediately. This more was occasioned by the fact that neither beat could make the lightship with the wind aft, and a hauf was necessarily to the suit of the suit of

ly. This move was occasioned by the fact that neither boat could make the lightship with the wind aft, and a haul was necessary.

In the run home the wind let up as well. It dropped to ten miles an hour. The steamboats had much trouble in getting back to the finish line on time to see the Volunteer successfully defend America's cup, as most of them had waited to see the Thistle round the outer mark, and that detained them fifteen minutes, but once underway for bome they maintained a joily speed, and leaving the Thistle far astern, they got there in time to see the American sloop creas the line a winner by 11 minutes 43% seconds.

Killed by Emergency Men.

DUBLIN, Sept. 30.—A large sumber of emergency men attempted yesterday to seize the cattle at the home of Michael Kavanasgh, on the Brooke estale, in County Wicklow. About twenty of them, armed with revolvers and rifles, attacked Kavanasgh's place. The first onsiaught was repuised by the ten defenders, whereupon the emergency men fired. When the smoke cleared away, John Kinsella, an old man sixty years of ago, who had been erricted from the Brooke estate previously, was found dead. The body was literally riddled with bullets. The greatest indignation prevails. The emergency men have for a long time been acting with a high hand in the neighborhood.

PROHIBITION IN TENNESSEE

America Again wins.

The Interestical Again wins.

The Interestical Again wins.

The Interestical State and the constitution probability manufacture or sale for use as a beverage of intoricating injuner. It passed off quiety all over the State, no discord of any kind being reported.

In Neakville and Davidson County it was the most remarkable election ever half.

The feature was the presence of indies at the polls working and pleading with voters to cast their hallot for the amendment Lunches with hot coffee were set as all the polling places, and whenever a man present of himself to vote the Anti tioke the was aurrounded by the ladies, argued with and if very stubbern, prayed for and regalet with sacred songs. Such a sight was never witnessed before in Nashville. The voters showed universal respect for the ladies and there is no doubt that to their presence is due the cutting down of the Anti majority in this county. In the sixth ward in this city the Antis railed their forces early and were voting in solid platoons of from five to fifty. The prohibition men were discouraged to the degree hat they deserted the polis. Then the ladies railied, sent out for reinforcements of their sex and bravely stood in the breach, pleading and praying with voters until the polis closed. Even those masculines who deprecate participation in plottices by women were forced to admire the bravery displayed by the ladies of hose bean defeated by from 1000 to 15,000. The Antis claim 25,000 majority, but it will hardly reach that.

The Anti-Prohibitionists cavried men the sheen defeated by from 1000 to 15,000. The Antis claim 25,000 majority against the amendment. The ladies worked for the amendment at all the voting precincts in the city. Chattanooga's official vote for the amendment at all the voting precincts in the city. Chattanooga's official vote for the amendment at all the voting precincts in the city. Chattanooga's official vote for the amendment, 2,921; against, 5,460.

A MANIAC ENGINEER.

WHA Time on a Wabsah Trais With a Madman.

Dist Mounts, Iowa, Sept. 29.—The fromms on the south-bound Wabsah train passed through a thrilling experience yesterday. Engineer Bottsworth pulled out of the yard here in apparently good health and spirits. But at Harvey he passed the water tanks full train length. The fireman called lustily the firm to back, but he paid no need. Suspecting he was under the influence of liquor, the fireman backed the train and took water. Soveral stations were passed without stopping, the engineer giving acheed to the fireman's cautions. At Knoxvillo Junction occurred a narrow escape from running into an open switch. Hore the conductor came out and gave the engineer a severe lecture. Starting out from this point behind time, Botsworth raised the speed to fifty miles an hour. Below Beacon he gave a loud whoop and sprang through the call window, but was not quick enough to elude the fireman, who caught him by the leg and held him suspended in mid-air, while with his own feet he reversed the lever and brought the train to a standstill. The engineer was then coaxed to the way car and turned over to the authorities at Ottumwa. He was brought home to-day, but tailed to be paralysis of the brain.

TREASURY POLICY.

A Cabinet Meeting Held, But Nothing Definitely Known.

Washinoton, Sept. 31.—The last meeting of the Cabinet prior to the President's departure for the West was held at the White House yesterday at the usual hour. The meeting was regarded as an important one, as it was believed that the policy to be adopted by the treasury with regard to the surplus up to the time of the assembling of Congress would be determined. The session lasted till about two o'clock. It was impossible to obtain any direct information as to the business transacted, except in the matter of the fisheries negotiations. Secretary Fairchild remained in conformation as to the business transacted, except in the matter of the fisheries negotiations. Secretary Fairchild remained in conformation to adjust the adjournment. He positively declined to say any thing in regard to the future financial policy of the Treasury Department, but from other sources it was learned the President had left the matter to the discretion of the Secretary, and there was no prospect of any immediate change of programme.

Roy. J. A. Denuis, one of the evangelists, preached a sermon on the subject of "Gloridation." Rev. Robert Chisholm took exceptions and called him to order, but the speaker continued. Chisholm, there speaker continued. Chisholm, therefore, mounted the rostrum and began to speak. Each tried to cry the other down, and, falling in this, they clinched and each tried to pull the other off the platform. During the excitement some one blew out the lights, and the meeting came to an abrupt termination. Each had the other arrested, and to-day at the trial Rev. Chisholm was fined $5, which he paid, and Rev. Dennis $10, but he was unable to pay the fine, and now lies in jail in consequence.

Survivors of the Onsis.

Distress on the Hio Grande.

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 20.—A special from Brownsville says: It is reported that great distress precails on both sides of the Upper Rio Grande country on account of high water. It is said that entire farms are under water, and that families residing near the river have lost all they had. A large number of these families have lost their entire crops. The river has overflowed its banks for miles and looks like an occan. The water is still rising at Frownsville. Edinburg and La Pueblo, situated sixty miles above Brownsville, have been washed from the face of the earth, and at Santa Maris the water is gradually making its way to destroy that place.

Westmanders, Sept. 29.—There is now pending before the Treasury Department one of the most important customs questions ever raised under the Tariff set. The claim is made by Democratic manufacturers of woolen fabrics that all worsted clothes should be subjected to a duty three times as heavy as now collected. The importations are so heavy and the use of imported worsted so general in this country that it is impossible to estimate how great would be the amount involved in a charge of the present practice. The Assistant Secrotary has the matter under consideration, but it is not thought that the present system will be charged.

BONNAM, Tex., Sept. 22.—A reporter last evening was granted an interview with the atterneys for H. P. Howard, the San Antonio claimant to the Tom Bean estate. The attorneys stated that one of the points they would use to establish the fact that the millionaire's name was always Bean is that Thomas Bean's father at an early day paient of a tract of land in Grayson County, this Stata, under the name of Bean, and that at the old goutleman's death Tom and his brother, John Bean, of California, inherited the land mutually; and still further, several years later, John Bean died and his heother Tom inherited the balance of the land, all under the name of Bean.
